

The Royal New Brunswick Rifle Association

Promoting marksmanship through competition since 1866

RNBRA Membership List Privacy Policy

March 16, 2014

The RNBRA Board presently collects and maintains some personal information of RNBRA members. The information collected includes name, address, date of birth, telephone number, email address, gender and Range Officer status.

This information is collected for several purposes, including:

- RNBRA communication with members
- Match directors can build an email list and communicate with specific members regarding shooting competitions (match date, time, changes, cancellations, etc.)
- Match directors verify membership for RNBRA sanctioned matches
- Section heads communicate with membership of each section
- Other RNBRA-related business as required

The membership list is not shared with other organizations unless it relates directly to RNBRA operations. For example, member names are sent to the insurance company.